

RICHMOND COUNTER STOOL

Crafted entirely from natural materials, this stool is anything but simple. The open pattern is hand-woven with flat rattan, styled in the traditional cane pattern, though exaggerated in a modern way for a hint of added drama. The frame is also made of rattan, built with round poles—for added support, a pole has been added in the low-profile back. This version is finished in espresso, but it is also available in a natural tone (5537). Also available as a bar stool (5534).
