Modern Classicism is realized in the fine furniture piece we call the Manhattan. This cocktail cabinet is crafted of matchbook burl wood in a toffee finish with a camelina crotch veneer application to provide a radial pattern that spans the surface, creating a movement of tones and textures. Vintage brass pull unveils a wine bottle and glass storage on the left and a soft-magnetic closure drawer with storage below on the right. The top is fitted with a key lock that opens up to a lined shelf and a black lacquer for an added touch of functionality and form. Wood will vary.
